Canyon Recreation Program Endorsed by Local Group

On Tuesday evening, April 24, a group of representatives of organizations instrumental in establishing the Canyon Community Recreation Council met to evaluate the program and its first year of operation.

The Council reported on the activities included in the first year of the recreation program and proposed additions to the program for the next year. Also the Council outlined possible sources of funds and asked the assistance of those present in procuring the needed money.

The group which heard the report endorsed the program and strongly urges that every effort be made to continue and to expand directed recreation in our town.

Those present and the organizations represented were: Rev. H. L. Thurston, Men's Fellowship Class of Methodist Church; Milton Morris, Lions Club; Mrs. E. D. Harrell, R. A. Neblett, and W. R. ## First Spray Made in Canyon Friday – Next in 2 Weeks

The first spray of the season was made in Canyon Friday afternoon.

The weather was perfect for the spraying, with only a light wind from the Southwest to spread the spray.

According to plans, spraying with DDT will be made every two weeks during the summer in order to keep down the flies and insects of the city. There is little chance for flies to hatch out this early in the season due to the lack of weeds and hiding places if there is a thorough spray continuously during the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Afton Williams spent Sunday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Schribner of Pampa.

Vandals Do a Large Amount Damage at Farm

Vandals are again at large, hitting the Arch Hunsley place north of town twice during the past week.

A week ago a pure bred heifer was shot and killed. She was valued at $500.

Sunday afternoon vandals entered the place, opening a gate from the grass pasture to the alfalfa field. The herd of Herefords wandered through the open gate into the alfalfa, and three cows were badly bloated. Only quick action saved the lives of the three animals.

The vandals were not through with their destruction. A wagon loaded with fence posts and building material was pushed about 100 feet and into the creek which has a bank 20 feet deep. The water is about 6 feet deep, and two men worked half a day trying to salvage the wagon and load. Part of the tools were never found.

Mr. Hunsley says that his place is well posted against intruders and vandals. He urges that if any person saw these persons on his place to please report them and he will see to it that they are prosecuted. Because of the weight of the wagon the vandals must have been either men or good sized boys.

Sheriff M. E. Cantrell was called to the scene of the destruction and is checking up on the actions of persons who were known to have been in the vicinity during Sunday afternoon. Any information regarding the destruction should be given to Mr. Hunsley for immediate prosecution of those responsible for the destruction.

Cold Wave But Little Moisture Received Here

The temperature sagged down to 40 degrees Monday night, bringing one of the coldest waves of the spring season.

Unfortunately no general moisture was brought. Light showers fell in this area over the week-end, but Canyon received only .08 of an inch of rain in two light showers.

The rains centered over the Southeast Plains with Childress receiving its second rain in two weeks.

The wheat has not been benefitted, although the cool weather has kept some of the wheat alive. It is reported that the small crop will be about two weeks earlier in maturing than has been the case in other years. It is stated that Randall county will raise more than enough wheat to reseed the county for fall planting.

Banks Seeking Way to Defeat Inflation Move

When to make sound loans and to whom such loans shall be made is the problem which has been undertaken by the American Bankers Association. Inflation threatens to engulf the nation unless credit restraints are practiced.

The bankers have issued a "Statement of Principles" which is in accord with the regulations issued by federal authorities in an attempt to curb inflation.

The First National Bank in Canyon is a member of the Federal Reserve System and of the American Bankers Association which are doing their best to curb inflation.

W. C. Black, president of the First National, has received a copy of the program which has been adopted by the banks, and will present this program to the directors of the bank for guidance in making future loans. The credit regulations are published on another page of this issue, and every person who hopes to float a loan for the expansion of his business should study the restrictions which have been adopted by all banks of the nation.

Mildred Bryan of Fairview 4-H club was second place winner. All eight girls ranged within 6 points of each other on the score used in judging. Only girls who were 14 or over on January 1 could enter the contest. Others entering were Janie Jennings of Pleasant View 4-H club, Naoma Bryan, Billy Bryan, and LaQuita Patterson of Fairview 4-H club, and Doris Bourn and Betty Burrus of Loyalty 4-H club.

The Canyon High School band was on hand to greet the visitors, and joined with the Wichita band and entertainers in entertaining the group.

The delegation made Canyon its first stop in Texas. Leaving home Sunday night, the train traveled over side lines of the Santa Fe, visiting towns in Kansas and Oklahoma which have no passenger service. School children flocked to the train along the lines to inspect the train.

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce did a swell job of entertaining the visitors and the group was highly impressed with their greeting here.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

All Facts Are Not Yet In on MacArthur

There is no subject confronting America today which is causing more talk, and perhaps, more profound thinking than that of the fate of General MacArthur.

From the very start, The Canyon News has taken the position that very few folks in this nation really knew all of the answers. We still are of this opinion, and therefore, we have not sent a burning letter or telegram to either of the principals, or to a member of Congress.

We are impressed with one thought: Either President Truman or General MacArthur did not understand plain English and could not read messages; or that one or both of them was completely fooled about conditions in Korea; or else one or both of them simply distorted the facts, and have sought to misrepresent the facts to the people.

If the latter situation is true, then we will have to say that one or the other has simply lied about a critical situation, and are seeking to cover up this falsehood. We hope that this is not the case.

General MacArthur has let it be known that he is ready and willing to face Congress again, and to discuss with the law makers all phases of the Korean situation. He will again defend, or make clear, his position on the war. Perhaps he has already spoken before you read this. We hope that he will clear up the muddle, when he appears again in Washington.

Frankly, this is no time for national disunity. While The News has never been charged with being a hero worshipper we have always held in high regard the man who occupies the White House, although we have always felt free to criticise him at will.

We hold no brief for General MacArthur, although we feel that he was given a raw deal. The President did not even go to the trouble to call him up and tell him that he was fired. His dismissal was a blow below the belt.

Let's withhold judgment until the chips are all in. If the President is wrong, he should pay the penalty; likewise if MacArthur is wrong, he will be completely discredited by the American people.

Labor Government Has Run Its Course

The labor government over in England is having plenty of trouble keeping its head above water. It is freely predicted that this type of socialized government will fall in the next general election and Winston Churchill will be returned to power.

Wonder if such a course of events could possibly have any effect upon Washington? Will it jar some of the smart boys back into their senses, or will they still insist in giving away the resources of America for the benefit of London?

There has been too many fellows in Washington who have favored following the lead of London in political and economic affairs.

We can not go along with them in either instance without running into danger — terrible danger to the American way of life.

Another Retreat As "Friends" Help Reds

We are again retreating in good order in Korea.

We hear again that our "friends" over in England are furnishing the war materials to the Reds of China to kill our troops in Korea.

Yes, we agree that England and the USA must be friends; but real friends do not kill their brothers for dollar profits.

Once again, it appears, the government will have to urge American farmers to produce abundant crops of food, feed and fiber and the farmers, as usual, will attend to the production if the price is guaranteed.

---

The government which can discover how to take all profit from warfare will show the world how to maintain peace.

---

The only trouble with the jury system is the jurors.

---

Nature is grand until the weeds begin to grow.

OPS Causing Lot of Needless Expense

Whenever you stick your head in any place of business these days, you will find a group carefully working on OPS regulations.

C. L. Thompson of Thompson's says that he figures OPS has cost his business at least $500 in clerical work — needless work. No prices have been reduced as a result of this work and no prices would have been raised unless wholesalers and manufacturers increased their prices.

This leads us to the observation that the government is setting out on the uncharted sea of price control, with no mileposts for guides, and little incentive for business folks to follow. We notice that a vast majority of business firms have so far failed to file their so-called schedule of prices under which they are to operate.

When OPS regulates prices at the factories, and is willing to apply these regulations to raw materials we may get some place.

Ponies To Run But Mexico Gets Coin

We see that the Republic of Mexico has authorized the construction of the third national race track along the border. The latest one will be at Loredo.

A few years ago we visited one Mexican race track, when the ponies were not running, and wondered at the huge crowd of foolish Americans who were studying the racing forms, and were placing their bets at all famous tracks around the globe.

The winners were drunk with joy; the losers said nothing — perhaps a few blew their brains out on the side.

The Mexicans got the money.

Not every man elected to public office is acquainted with the theory or principles of good government.

Advertising is most expensive to those who neglect it.

Newspapers Having Plenty of Grief

Perhaps The News has devoted too much space in recent months about the troubles of publishing a newspaper. Maybe you are not concerned about our troubles when you have plenty of troubles of your own.

We see that one of the major discussions of daily newspaper publishers who met in New York has been the rapidly advancing costs to the small dailies. Unless something is done, the small dailies will fall like leaves on an autumn morning. The big dailies can and are advancing their rates to meet these advancing costs.

The weeklies are caught in the same predicament. They must have more money for their advertising and subscription, or go out of business. Few publishers want to increase either of these rates, but there is no way out for them.

Fortunately the publishers of Texas are not being harassed by a lot of crazy bills in the legislature. We note that in California 150 bills have been introduced in the legislature to curb the newspapers. Texas lacks a whole lot of being THE crazy state of the union.

The most disheartening proposal yet proposed is one that is suggested as a means of pulling the postoffice department out of the red. It would impose a sales tax on advertising, to be paid by the publishers. This comes on top of the proposed increase in mailing rates, which has been pending for several months.

Yes, we all have our trials, in some form or another.

The sales tax must not be used as a means of reducing the taxes of those with incomes that would not contribute to the government in proportion to benefits received.

---

You probably think today's news is important but, if you want to know how important, read a newspaper that was published in June, 1950.

---

Self-control is a virtue that individuals recommend to their friends.

---

The trouble with getting ahead in life is staying ahead.

Republicans Having Trials With Leaders

Republican leaders are in a dither. They swallowed the propaganda of a few leaders to make General MacArthur the party leader. Two obstacles have presented themselves to make this impossible:

1. Governor Dewey, who believes that he is running the GOP camp.
2. The announced intention of MacArthur to stay out of politics.

There is no doubt of the popularity of MacArthur and his ability as an orator. He has the happy faculty of carefully studying his subject before he speaks. So far he has said nothing that would lessen his popular appeal. He is sincere in his belief — strong in his determination to carry on in spite of opposition.

However, his age of 71 years; lack of political experience; opposition within the Republican ranks; the fact that he is a professional soldier; all are strong obstacles against his possible nomination and election.

We shall see what we shall see in 1952!

Thin Steaks Will Become Thinner

DiSalle says that he is going to cut steak prices.

Thin steaks, we venture to say. The butcher is not the guy who will be to blame when you look at your dinner steak. He, like you, has to live.

We know people who seek the empty honors of life in the fond hope that other people will not know how empty they are.

Debates would be more profitable if the participants were more interested in the truth than the decision of the judges.

Mercy is all right, and we commend it, but not to those who drive automobiles while under the influence of alcohol.

We can take a certain amount of what is known as "small talk," but we have, upon occasions, heard too much of it.

---

Highway fatalities will decrease in proportion to the increase of the patience and courtesy of automobile drivers.

We do not like the idea of universal military training but we like Communist domination a lot less.

The human race will be greatly improved when men attend to the business of improving themselves.

Most of the compliments that you get come from those who understand the quid pro doctrine.

Human nature is what encourages individuals to find an excuse for what they happen to desire.

It is remarkable how "uneasy" people become over public proposals that affect their pocketbooks.

Tax planners in Congress are moving in slow motion, with a growing chance that any tax increase finally approved for individual incomes will not apply to income earned before Jan. 1, 1952.

CROWDED

Why don't you live with her parents?" suggested the other.

"That's no good," said the prospective husband. "You see, they are living with their parents still."

WISE LADY

"Darling," he asked, as he drew his beloved closer to him, "am I the only man you have ever loved?"

"William," she replied, somewhat testily, "before we go any further, I would like to ask you a few questions. You are aware that my father is a millionaire, aren't you?"

"Y-yes."

"You understand, no doubt, that when he dies his vast fortune will be left to me?"

"Ye-yes."

"You know that I own half-a-million dollars worth of property?"

"Y-yes."

"That my diamonds are insured for two hundred thousand dollars?"

"Y-yes."

"Then for goodness sake, talk sense. What difference would it make if I had been kissed by a thousand men before I met you?"

Representative Carl Vinson, of Milledgeville, Ga., is the man who almost singlehanded saved universal military training in the House of Representatives. Vinson's skill in saving UMT after most of its friends had given it up is to go down as a rare example of parliamentary technique.

Dollars of aid from U. S., in some instances, are being used by those abroad who get them to bid up prices of commodities in which U. S. buyers are interested. U. S. buyers, at the same time are barred from meeting price rises abroad under controls imposed by U. S. on imported products.

Republicans are somewhat embarrassed by the fact that minority racial groups in this country, which play a big part in deciding national elections, all stem from Europe and have a primary interest in U. S. policy toward Europe. The number of voting Chinese is not large.

President Truman's basic political strategy for 1952 is to try to pin a war-party tag on the Republicans. Mr. Truman, at this point, regards peace as the best election slogan. Unless China's Mao Tse-tung interferes, White House pronouncements from now on will be geared to "peace."

THE SUREST

Professor: "What is the most potent poison?"

Student: "An airplane — one drop and you're dead!"

Advice from the White House during the firing of General MacArthur was that Dean Acheson, Secretary of State, should not visit the President during that operation and should not become connected in any way with the firing. Secretary Acheson, deliberately, kept a background position.

"I got the story on

50,000 Miles-No Wear

and changed to New Conoco Super Motor Oil"

says Arnold B. Bangerter, Jr.
Owner, Radio Cab Company
Salt Lake City, Utah

"Since I changed my 14 cabs over to Conoco Super, I've cut oil consumption almost 50 per cent. With at least 85,000 miles on each, there's no sign of needing new engines yet!"

"It's a pleasure to have satisfied customers, thanks to Conoco Super," says Walt Winters, Chrysler-Plymouth Dealer, Westside, Iowa. "My customers depend on my judgment about the oil to use in their cars, and Conoco Super is the one I recommend."

"When I purchased my new Pontiac, I put in Conoco Super," says Melvin L. Beyer, Traveling Salesman, Pampa, Texas. "I average about 4,000 miles a month and Conoco Super has given me the best of service—even helped to increase the miles per gallon of gasoline."

"50,000 Miles-No Wear!" Proved Here:

After a 50,000-mile road test, with proper crankcase drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence: in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000! This test proved that Conoco Super can keep your new car new.

BOYCE HOUSE Gives You Texas

Probably no minister called upon to perform a wedding ceremony ever had quite such an experience as did a pioneer preacher known as Parson Robertson. The story is told in that excellent magazine, the Frontier Times:

In the winter of 1859, the event about to be related took place between Robertson Peak in Coleman County and Buffalo Gap in Taylor County. Accompanied by a cowboy, Parson Robertson arrived at the bride's home and there they found that, during the absence of all the men folks but one, Indians had killed the old fellow, who did chores around the place, and had carried the bride away! So the preacher and the cowboy decided to follow the trail.

"Have you a good gun and plenty of ammunition?" the other asked. "Yes," said the preacher, "a friend of mine gave me Old Betsy here and I had rather trust her in shooting buffalo than any other gun on the frontier."

"This is not going to be a buffalo hunt," the cowboy grimly reminded. "The mother says there were five Indians and there are only two of us."

"Oh, well," smiled the preacher, "I'm to have $5 for marrying Mary Ann and Bob and I can't marry them unless we get the bride back. Besides, I believe this gun is just itching to be tried on an Indian."

After two hours, the trail grew hot. "I think we have the best horses," said the cowboy. "Yes," said the preacher, "and if my eyes don't fail me, I caught a glimpse of some feathered heads going over the ridge yonder."

By the time the two reached the crest of the ridge, a darkening cloud lowered and it began to snow, quickly blotting out the trail. But they rode on, faster and faster through the snow storm. Then ahead they heard the voices of Indians, the clatter of horse's hoofs which came closer — and a woman's scream.

Then they saw dimly a woman who was tied to a horse; she was racing at full speed and behind came the Indians. Both men fired but they had fired at the same Indian and only one redskin fell. The fight was on and the cowboy's horse was shot from under him; then he himself was wounded in the right arm and could not use his gun. This left the Parson to fight four Indians, who advanced toward him.

But just then a party of horsemen approached. They had come from the ranch and when they met the escaping bride, she turned around and guided them back. The Indians dashed away and there was no use following them in the snowstorm.

The girl explained, "When the snow began falling so thick you could hardly see your hand in front of you, the Indians stopped and commenced chattering. They were off their horses. I saw a chance to get away and, quick as lightning, I turned my horse's head homeward and spoke to him. Luckily, I was on my favorite horse, which they had stolen when they got me."

After the ceremony, the groom offered a dollar more than the promised fee but the preacher declined. "Of course I was put to a little extra trouble but I didn't know whether Old Betsy had been trained for Indians or not; it was well worth the trouble to find out." said Parson Robertson.

Governor Thomas Dewey of New York was happy to have had arrangements made for a stay in Bermuda during the time of the MacArthur visit to New York City. Governor Dewey and the wing of the Republican Party he represents are as opposed as President Truman to accepting a bigger war in China that might upset plans for putting Europe first.

Rudolph Schlam, fur stylist: "In beaver colonies, the bachelor is allowed no part in the activities of the others."

The idea circulated by the White House group that General MacArthur deliberately did not abide by White House directives and may actually have tried to get fired is not correct. MacArthur was surprised by the White House action. He had no word either from the White House or Joint Chiefs of Staff between March 24 and April 11, when removed.

A search by the White House staff of messages and statements from Gen. Douglas MacArthur has failed to turn up supporting evidence for the claim that the General wanted to use U. S. troops for a land war in China.

George C. Marshall, now U. S. Secretary of Defense, all during World War II and since then has been a leading advocate of the thesis that U. S. cannot be strong both in the Far East and in Europe, and Europe is accepted as our primary interest.

First telephone call was made March 10, 1876, seventy-five years ago.

Brown: "How many coats do you give a door?"
Painter: "Three?"
Brown: "So if yau gave it four, the fourth would be an over-coat."
Painter: "No, a waste-coat."

A new "parallel," or boundary, in Korea, running at an angle between the 39th and the 38th, is the defensive dividing line that the U. S. Joint Chiefs have drawn, beyond which U. N. forces, after stopping the Communist spring offensive, are not to move in strength. Idea is that this line can be held as well as a line some 70 miles north of the 38th parallel across the narrow neck of Korea.

JUST OUT

After a final row with his wife, a brow-beaten husband took his hat from the peg in the hall and said: "I'm going."

Three years later he returned, and his wife demanded: "Where on earth have you been?"

"Out," he replied, and hung his hat on the same peg.

NEXT, PLEASE!

A club of eccentric young Britishers had for one of their rules that on Tuesday evenings any man who asked in the clubroom a question which he was unable to answer himself should pay a fine of ten shillings.

One evening Tomkinson asked: "Why doesn't a ground squirrel leave any dirt round the top of his hole when he digs it?"

After some deliberation he was called upon to answer his own question. "That's easy," he said. "The squirrel starts at the bottom and digs up."

"All very nice," suggested a member, "but how does it get to the bottom."

"That's your question," answered Tomkinson.

Big business, which claims most of the credit for our material accomplishments, is willing for the little fellow to pay his taxes.

"Duck!" said the first.

"Where?" said the second, as he stood up in time to be shot in the neck.

Lions Club Attends District Convention In Hereford

At the regular luncheon of the Lions Club last Wednesday, plans were formulated for the Lions District 2-T-1 Convention. The annual convention met in Hereford on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

This district comprises a large territory in that approximately 40 counties are represented.

The local organization was well represented. Six members acted as local representatives in the judging of the district queen contest. The winner was presented at a banquet Monday night in the Jim Hill Hotel. Miss Jo Parker represented the local club in this special event.

Following the banquet a dance was held in the ballroom of the hotel. Music was provided by Leighton Noble and his orchestra.

On Sunday afternoon the Canyon Lions drove over to Hereford and registered as a group.

Kenneth Goodman announced at the luncheon that the Minstrel Show had netted slightly over $400 dollars for this year.

He also recognized the men who have attended all of the Club's luncheons for the past year.

Dudley Bayne briefly discussed the participation of the local group in the city's annual clean-up campaign. The club had previously agreed to take part in clean-up week.

R. A. Smith was welcomed as a new member to the club.

WOMENS PRESBYTERIAN AUX. MEETS WITH MRS. SO RELLE

The Womens Presbyterian Auxiliary met in regular session in the home of Mrs. Laura SoRelle on Tuesday, April 24, with 11 ladies present. After the president opened the meeting, Mrs. Cash lead the group in prayer. Following the reading of the minutes, the motion that the group pack and send another box to Korea carried. Mrs. McCaslin brought the devotional from the 7th chapter of II Corinthians. Mrs. SoRelle gave the program on "The Foundation of Peace." The free will offering amounted to $5.90. Mrs. McCaslin closed the meeting by prayer.

Lovely refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her daughter-in-law. The next meeting will be with Mrs. L. A. Donnell.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 9 MET THURSDAY AFTERNOON

On Thursday afternoon Troop 9 of the Girl Scouts met. The group had planned a hike but had to stay inside to make their stew and roast the marshmellows. A hike has been planned for the next meeting. Members of the troop have made dish towels for the Scout Hall.

Members present Thursday were Jean Chambers, Judy Newman, Martha Harding, Barbara Shepherd, Avalon Brown, Sheila Dixon, Frances Boyde, Mary Sue Bolton and the leader Mrs. A. L. Chambers.

REMOVES STUBBORN TIRES FROM RIMS

Recently introduced by a Los Angeles firm is a ram-type hydraulic tool for removing tires that have been on the rims for long periods of time. Four supporting arms hold the tire and wheel in a horizontal position. Through the center of the arms is a shaft which extends from a hydraulic ram. The upper end of the shaft is threaded and the truck wheel is mounted on a holding plate and nut. Then, four curved adjustable shoes are inserted between the tire and rim, similar to the position formerly used by a hand tire iron. The repairman, to operate, pressed a button which forces the wheel down through the tire by the hydraulic ram.

HEAVY DUTY TRUCK TRESTLE IS OFFERED

A 10-ton truck trestle has been introduced by a York, Pa., firm. With a low position of 30 inches, and a high position of 50 inches, the trestle weighs 90 pounds and is braced and welded. It also has a locking pin arrangement which prevents accidental release of the trestle.

Crime Dirty Business Says J. Edgar Hoover

Commenting on the crime, vice and gambling combinations and rackets in the United States, and corruption in some political circles, J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation says: "There is nothing pleasant in any discussion on the subject of crime. Crime exists because of failures — failure to prevent delinquency and failure to correct delinquency. Beyond that, there is a failure to prevent crime, a failure to detect crime, a failure to prosecute crime, a failure to properly deal with crime and a failure to take the profit out of crime.

"The solution of the crime problem is a simple matter: Enforce existing laws fairly and impartially, vigorously and relentlessly, and mobilize the full force of every medium of education as to the facts about crime. I have no sympathy with the position of those who constantly are urging against the publication of information on crime. In fact, I would urge the dissemination of more information on crime which puts crime in its proper perspective and reveals it in all its horror and filth, and revolting character. Only in that way can public lethargy be forced into action.

"The evils of gang wars, gambling, vice, political corruption and organized crime can be eliminated from the American scene. The fundamental solution lies in aroused and awakened citizens, militantly demanding the action which will eliminate the gambling czar, the crook and the venal politician. Blast the foundation of the local gambling czar, by vigorously enforcing the statutes against gambling without fear or favor and he will collapse and, like a house of cards, the vast pyramid of gambling will collapse.

"We can never have a crime-free America until all who stand for law and order are united and determined to mobilize against those who constitute our army of lawlessness. Only a return to the fundamentals upon which this Nation was founded — a moral reawakening — a revitalized spirit and a rededication of service to our fellow man — can make this a reality.

"No nation ever won a war unless its people were united and dedicated to the common cause."

MacArthur Speech Is Printed by a Houston Firm

So great was the interest of the people of the Southwest in the speech of General MacArthur before Congress that a Houston firm has printed the speech in full and is distributing it in pamhlet form.

Practically every daily newspaper in the nation printed the speech in full, and it has been widely quoted in various magazines and other publications.

COLLAPSIBLE CONTAINER SEEN HARD TO TILT

A Detroit firm is manufacturing a cargo container that can be knocked down and returned flat. Made of metal, without a lid, the floor of the container rests on square legs that act as locks when inserted in the top of another box. The manufacturer says that the boxes may be piled one on another to an indefinite height with a minimum possibility of tilting or tipping. The boxes came in 27.5 and 30 cubic feet capacities.

Partnership Is Part Citizens In Corporations

The Exchange, a magazine published by the New York Stock Exchange, recently carried an article by the head of one of our largest industries in which he said that all enterprise should belong directly to the people.

Make no mistake — this is not a plea for socialism, but for just the opposite. The executive wrote, "I hope that the day will come when every American family will purchase a share of American industry, however small or large that share may be.

"That, to me, is true public ownership, and I favor it just as ardently as I oppose Government ownership. Let no one tell you that the two are the same. They are as far apart as the poles."

Fortunately in the United States, stock exchanges provide a ready market place where anyone can buy an interest in the companies which represent the economic strength of this country, which employ much of the population, and which sustain our living standards. A man who buys stock — whether it be one share or thousands — becomes a partner in enterprise. His own personal welfare is directly related to the welfare of enterprise. When that happens, he isn't likely to fall for the suave arguments of the socialists. And he becomes alert to the danger of governmental policies, in taxation, regulation, and other fields, which would undermine our economy and our system of government.

It is a fortunate thing for America that our industrial resources are controlled more extensively by the public than they are anywhere else. One of the most significant trends of the time is the ever-broadening ownership of corporate enterprise by individuals. Yes, that is true public ownership.

NO COUNTERPART

A middle-aged woman, blase and world-wise, sat in a beauty parlor, trying to decide upon the style of permanent wave she would have.

"Now, this," said the patient operator, showing the patron the last of a huge stack of photographs, "is a charming and attractive style."

"Too charming and too attractive!" the perplexed woman rejoined.

"Really?" said the puzzled operator.

"Yes," the patron replied with a wry smile, "that wouldn't do for me at all. A man would only look at it and say: "Gosh! With hair like that, she should have a better-looking face!"

TOUGH LUCK

A picture was being shown of a girl taking off her clothes at the edge of a river, before plunging into the water. In front of her ran a railway line, and just as the girl was removing her last garment a train came along, obscuring the view.

When the train had passed, the girl was swimming vigorously. At this point a man muttered, "Damn."

"I beg your pardon," said his neighbor, "did you say something?"

"Yes," said the other, "I've been to see this picture five times this week, and that darned train's on time every night."

Higaru Yoshida, Premier of Japan: "The accomplishments of General MacArthur in the interest of our country are manifold."

Duke of Windsor, former King of England: "I am a very happy man and England has a very fine King."

Robert C. Cook, author: "Next to the atom bomb, the most ominous force in the world today is uncontrolled fertility."

Trygve Lie, Secretary-General, United Nations: "There may be a better chance now than ever before for a cease-fire in Korea."

Paul G. Hoffman, director, The Ford Foundation: "We are emerging from our historic isolationism and from our complacency."

Kirtley F. Mather, Harvard geologist: "America's greatest danger is the spread of thought control."

Hold the Line Is Advise of Woman Writer

In one of her recent columns, Dorothy Thompson wrote, "In the controversy over General of the Army MacArthur, our sympathies are entirely with the General. Never before has an American commander had to direct such a project as our troops became involved in via the United Nations ...

"General MacArthur is commanding men who are fighting, suffering wounds and dying at the hands of enemies. They are not sitting comfortably in Lake Success, Washington, London, or Delhi; they were sent, not by General MacArthur but by President Truman and the U. N. and they have a right to know what objective they are there to achieve, or whether they are in for a war ad perpetum — in which neither side can ever win, though they keep on killing and being killed."

Sometime ago General MacArthur said flatly that, under the policies imposed upon his command, it is impossible to conclude the Korean war — that all we can do is hold our own and inflict maximum possible losses on the enemy while we husband our own strength as best we can. A primary strategic goal in any war is to destroy the enemy's sources of supply. In the Korean war — which is no longer being waged against the North Koreans but against the Red Chinese — the supply bases lie across the border in China. Yet MacArthur cannot even send a plane across that border. So the Chinese armies can be organized and trained and equipped without fear of attack, and then moved into Korea.

The naval situation in that part of the world is equally unprecedented. A great fleet, the 7th, is on constant patrol in the waters between Formosa and the Chinese mainland. And the task of this fleet is not to fight Red China, but just the contrary. The commanding admiral's orders are to prevent Chinese Nationalist troops on Formosa from raiding the mainland. So, because of the presence of American seapower off China, that possible threat to the security of Communist China has been averted

QUITE CHILLY

A man appeared at the gate of a nudist colony, rang the bell and waited. From inside: "What do you want?"

"I want to join."

"You can't join with that blue suit on."

"It isn't a blue suit — I'm just cold."

HER IDEA

Teacher asked all the children to write down the name of their favorite hymn.

Everyone wrote except little Mary.

"Come on, Mary, write it down," coaxed teacher.

So little Mary blushingly wrote, "Johnny Brown."

TIT FOR TAT

Two women, who had once been neighbors, met on the street, not having seen each other for seven years.

"My," said one, "I would hardly have known you, you look so much older."

"I wouldn't have recognized you either," said the other, "except for your hat and dress."

BROTHER'S RIGHT

The president of a large corporation was sitting down to dinner with his family when little Mary turned to her father and said: "Why can't we just pray once a week, Daddy? Why do we have to ask for our daily bread every day?"

Her younger brother, looking up in utter disgust: "Do you think we want stale bread?"

MERELY THE TRUTH

Excited female voice: "Wait a minute! Don't start this street car until I get my clothes on!"

The passengers craned their necks expectantly. 'Twas only a housewife on her way to the laundromat.

Catty: "Better make it the palmist — you know you have a palm."

WHERE ELSE?

The young lover was obviously reeling out a heavy line trying to impress the beautiful young girl at his side. "Those warm lips, And those beautiful eyes! Where did you get those eyes?"

The girl, unimpressed, "They came with my head."

Tillie: "What? Have you been having a portrait painted?"

Mabel: "No, learning to skate."

Program For Voluntary Credit Restraint

STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 708(a) of the Defense Production Act of 1950, and with the approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System in accordance with the functions delegated to it by Section 701(a) (2) of Executive Order 10161, this Statement of Principles has been drafted to which all financing institutions are asked to conform.

It shall be the purpose of financing institutions to extend credit in such a way as to help maintain and increase the strength of the domestic economy through the restraint of inflationary tendencies and at the same time to help finance the defense program and the essential needs of agriculture, industry and commerce.

Inflation may be defined as a condition in which the effective demand for goods and services exceeds the available supply, thus exerting an upward pressure on prices.

Any increase in lending at a more rapid rate than production can be increased exerts an inflationary influence. Under present conditions of very high employment of labor, materials and equipment, the extension of loans to finance increased output will have an initial inflationary effect; but loans which ultimately result in a commensurate increase in production of an essential nature are not inflationary in the long run whatever their temporary effect may be. It is most important, however, that loans for non-essential purposes be curtailed in order to release some of the nation's resources for expansion in more vital areas of production.

Cooperation with this program of credit restraint makes it increasingly necessary for financing institutions to screen loan applications on the basis of their purpose, in addition to the usual tests of credit worthiness. The criterion for sound lending in a period of inflationary danger boils down to the following: Does it commensurately increase or maintain production, processing and distribution of essential goods and services?

In interpretation of the foregoing, the following types of loans would be classified as proper:

1. Loans for defense production, direct or indirect, including fuel, power and transportation.
2. Loans for the production, processing and orderly distribution of agricultural and other staple products, including export and import as well as domestic, and of goods and services supplying the essential day-to-day needs of the country.
3. Loans to augment working capital where higher wages and prices of materials make such loans necessary to sustain essential production, processing or distribution services.
4. Loans to securities dealers in the normal conduct of their business or to them or others incidental to the flotation and distribution of securities where the money is being raised for any of the foregoing purposes.

This Program would not seek to restrict loans guaranteed or insured, or authorized as to purpose by a Government agency, on the theory that they should be restricted, in accordance with national policy, at the source of guaranty or authorization. Financing institutions would not be restricted in honoring previous commitments.

The following are types of loans which in general financing institutions should not make under present conditions, unless modified by the circumstances of the particular loan so as not to be inconsistent with the principles of this Program:

1. Loans to retire or acquire corporate equities in the hands of the public, including loans for the acquisition of existing companies or plants where no over-all increase of production would result.
2. Loans for speculative investments or purchases. The first test of speculation is whether the purchase is for any purpose other than use or distribution in the normal course of the borrower's business. The second test is whether the amounts involved are disproportionate to the borrower's normal business operations.* This would include speculative expansion of real estate holdings or plant facilities as well as speculative accumulation of inventories in expectation of resale instead of use.

The foregoing principles should be applied in screening as to purpose on all loans on securities whether or not covered by Regulations U or T.

* Loans additional to those needed for a borrower's normal business may, of course, be regarded as proper when they are for the purpose of defense production or otherwise conform to the types of loans listed as proper in this Statement of Principles.

Recognizing that the maximum estimate of the percentage of our 1951 production which will be devoted directly or indirectly to national defense is between 20 per cent and 30 per cent, a very substantial proportion of the lending of the country will be devoted to the financing of the production and growth of our industrial and commercial community. In these circumstances, it is felt that each financing institution can help accomplish the objectives outlined above by careful screening of each application for credit extension.

In carrying out such screening, financing institutions should not only observe the letter of the existing regulations of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System with respect to real estate credit, consumer credit, security loans, etc., but should also apply to all their lending the spirit of these and such other regulations and guiding regulations and guiding principles as the Government may from time to time announce in the fight against inflation.

This Program is necessarily very general in nature. It is a voluntary Program to aid in the over-all efforts to restrain inflation. To be helpful, this Program must rely on the good will of all financing institutions and the over-all intention to comply with its spirit.

The terms "loans," "lending" and "credit," in addition to their ordinary connotations, mean the supplying of funds through the underwriting and distribution of securities (either on a firm commitment, agency or "best efforts" basis), the making or assisting in the making of direct placements, or otherwise participating in the offering or distribution of securities.

DEFINITIONS — As used herein: The terms "financing institution" or "financing institutions" mean banks, life insurance companies, investment bankers engaged in the underwriting, distribution, dealing or participating, as agents or otherwise, in the offering, purchase or sale of securities, and such other types or groups of financial institutions as the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System may invite to participate in the Program.

A NICHE FOR HIMSELF

Principal J. E. Miller, in his nearly four years of service to the Canyon Independent School District, has won the respect, friendship, and admiration of all those persons with whom he deals in his CHS administrative work.

Mr. Miller, who is recognized by his wide, friendly smile and accommodating manner, is a friend to virtually every Canyon High School student, and to each faculty member. He is always ready to listen to the problems of a worried teenager or teacher, and can usually provide a solution to the matter at hand.

It is obvious to any casual observer that Principal Miller is a guiding influence and an idealized personality in Canyon High today, and will continue to be such in the future.

BE YOURSELF!

Lack of sincerity on the part of a student is a glaringly distasteful quality. The teen-ager whose friendliness is over-enthusiastic or who is trying to grow up too rapidly is likely to lose friends rather than gain them.

It should be understood, however, that a definitely friendly and adult attitude is essential to the high school student. The unwanted part is an attempt of a student to act overly sophisticated and self-pushing.

Sincerity is defined by Webster as honesty of mind or intention; freedom from simulation. This meaning may then be interpreted as genuineness. Exhibiting true feelings and opinions with tact is sincerity; being hypocritic is not living your own life.

In the idiom of a time-proven philosopher: "Be yourself!"

Senior Vignette

Although he won first place as the best actor in the one-act play contest, Eugene Hill does not expect to continue acting, but rather wishes to teach and to be a radio announcer. Eugene replied "HA" when asked who his girl friend was. He likes to eat fried chicken and drink cokes. His ideal person is Kenneth May.

His ambition is to go with Bette McGehee, his ideal person is Bette McGehee, and his girl friend is Bette McGehee (?).

His favorite drink is fresh milk and he enjoys eating Mrs. Lisle's cooking immensely. Blonds-headed Sterling Cummings played end on the football team and ran the mile in track. Sterling, who became a senior at the end of last semester, has a remarkable memory for jokes.

THANKS FOR THE MEMORY

"Thanks for the memory." To each teacher we the students of CHS dedicate this song to you as the '50-51 year draws to a close. Each laugh, each sigh, each cross word, will be placed in a cherished book of memories way down deep in every heart. In years to come these days will reflect an almost forgotten friend's laugh or pet saying. As this year draws to a close we will not only remember the sayings of Pope or how to find the square root of a number but the good times and good fellowships that can only be found in a high school.

For some reason when we think of the past the unpleasant things seem to be lost in the sea of forgotten memories. But all the pleasant days rush to the mind to bring a smile to the lips.

Seniors Honored At Spring Party

Seniors of '51 were entertained with a party given by W. M. U. at the Baptist Church, Friday, April 27. Thirty-five seniors and their sponsors, Mrs. Cecil Simms and Mr. Ray Schultz, were present.

Recreation was planned by four Wayland College students: Jeanine Green, Danny McClellan, J. W. Maynard, and Doris Adams.

Dividing the group into two "schools," spelling, arithmetic, physical education, and chorus games were played. At lunch hour refreshments were served. Favors of corks with painted faces and purple caps with white tassels were given each guest.

Nine shining sterling silver charms will be presented to members of the Eagle's Tale staff in All-Awards Assembly, May 18. The charms are oblong in shape; on the front is pictured the lamp of knowledge atop two novels and beneath is inscribed "Journalism." Inscription on the back reads, "CHS — '51."

You lucky ole seniors just have eight more days in the institution — sorry — in dear ole CHS, and as a little token of love from us unfortunates left behind . . . we have writ you a poem, we think.

You have come and you have went,
Happy days have here been spent
Skipping classes, playing ball,
Throwin' papers in the hall,
Carving names on table tops,
Hiding all the janitor's mops.
That was four long years ago,
You grow'd up; now you're no shmoe.
Boys outgrew the dirty faces;
Gals junked jeans for frills and laces.
You're mighty worldly now, it seems,
Planning plans and dreaming dreams.
Your lives, it seems, are all ahead,
That quest for knowledge isn't fed.
Those memories of proms and plays
Will brighten the most gloomy days.
And you're mighty lucky guys and gals
To have made such lasting, loving pals.
Now let us make a parting toast
To the class we love the very most:
"To a great bunch — you're our ideal.
We can't express just how we feel.
Such a shining example never parts
So we wish each 'GOOD LUCK' with all our hearts!"

FFA Award Goes To Stroup

Star Farmer for the Hereford district is Donnie Stroup, Canyon High junior. Agriculture has been Donnie's main interest throughout his high school days. He has been very active in FFA work since 1948, and since then he has been reporter, district nominee for state officer, and is applying for State Farmer this year. Although he thinks the work is very tedious at times, he finds the rewards are gratifying.

"I had no idea I would ever be a Star Farmer, and when I was told that I had been selected, I could not believe it. Having an honor like this makes one want to work harder and strive for higher goals in everything one undertakes," was Donnie's report of his reaction to being presented the Star Farmer award.

Donnie plans to carry on his agriculture work in college, either West Texas State or Texas Tech.

Students Eagerly Await Annual Picnic

It is time to get out those old jeans and shoes, because the time is finally here for the annual high school picnic held in Palo Duro Canyons.

Devil's slide awaits those brave youths who venture toward the top; those who think the seat of their pants will make the trip. Baseball will offer a game of sport for those who like competition. Horseback riding and swimming are strictly taboo for everyone! Cliff climbing is perhaps the main attraction of the picnic; however, the lunch served will run a close second.

A note to the wise is not to venture off too far and for goodness sake . . . do not bite any rattlesnakes or chase the snakes, by special request of the canyon management.

Mary Sue Bolton Champion Speller

Champion speller in the Elementary Spelling Bee and second place winner of the County Bee is Mary Sue Bolton, eleven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Bolton.

Aside from being an outstanding speller, Mary Sue has many other interests. She is sixth grade class secretary and sextette member, plays the piano, and is a Girl Scout. Mrs. Mitchell Jones is Mary Sue's spelling teacher.

County Bee Winners

Randall County Spelling Bee was held April 21, at the Randall County Court House, Canyon, Texas, with Judge Burney Slack in charge. Winners were as follows:

First: Ruby Jo Yarbrough representing West Texas Junior High.

Second: Mary Sue Bolton representing Canyon Elementary School.

Third: Margaret Friemel — Umbarger.

Fourth: Betty Ruth Mariner — West Texas Elementary School.

Girls Model Spring Fashions

Presenting "Fashion Steps Into Spring," the homemaking sewing classes modeled garments in assembly, Tuesday morning, April 24.

The models appeared from a giant Vogue magazine cover, outlined with primrose. Apple trees grew out of a green grass carpet and banks of primroses and honeysuckle outlined the fashion lane. A white picket fence entwined with flowers and greenery completed the setting. While the mistress of ceremonies, Florence Coffee, announced the models, Merle Bullard played background music.

For fall wear, the girls seemed to prefer dark greens, rust, dark browns, gray, and tan accented with melon, burnished gold, varigated blues, and pinks.

Yellow, lavender, aqua, and blue were the most popular choices for summer. Tangarine, apricot, chartruese, and navy garments were also shown. The ever-popular basic dresses were dressed up with flowers, belts, and striking accessories of all kinds. Most of the dresses and suits were tailored, suitable for any accasion.

Models were: Sarah Colwell, Peggy Bonds, Dorothy Cleavinger, Tysene Cox, Elaine Cundiff, Barbara Glanton, Janie Jennings, Lynn McKinney, Carlene Rogers, Grace Sheets, Lucille Shellnut, Virginia Thomas, Joyce Thurmon, Janice Waldrop, Bettie Jean Hancock, Glenetta Johnson, Joyce Keller, Naomi Ross, Louise Hunter, Peggy Shero, Nancy Bolton, Rhea June Cabe, Jean Stone, Janelda Cunningham, Patsy Vandergriff, Camillia Davis, Barbara Winters, Joan Mickey, Billie Carter, Ann Holt, Dorothy Neblett, Billie Graham, Roberta Grigsby, Francis Pennington, Arlene Johnson, Ann Barnhill, Wanelle Montgomery, Doris Bourn, Patsy Priddy, Virginia Holt, Shirley Peppard, Sue Keeley, Annelle Pond, Johnnie Bonds, Barbara Bagley, Mary Alice Baur, Wanette Green, Mary Francis Dodson, Evelyn Costley, Lila Hunter, Nora Dell Ruthardt, Norma Thurmon, Maurine Scruggs, Annette Rusk, Houstene Prichard, Bettie Jean Graham, Elaine Fisher, Lucille Simon, Shirley White, Carole Rose, Shirley Marshall, Mary Owens, Sue Ann Kinney, Virginia Rigsby, Catherine Wiegard, Elvira Boyd, Carleeta Phelps.

Girls from the junior high classes taking part were: June Davis, Zora Lee Stone, Peggy Sheets, Laura Kinney, Martha Quillen, Rhea June Ford, Rita Jo Crow, Janis Wright, Dora Jean McAtee, Nancy Root, Diane Prichard, Joan Payne, and Shirley Glenn.

Stroup, Burrus FFA Leaders

Donnie Stroup was elected State Officer nominee from the Hereford District, and Ray Burrus was elected FFA officer of Area XI. The District Future Farmers of America meeting was held at Dimmitt, April 19.

Donnie Stroup was elected State Officer nominee at the district meeting and will compete for state office nomination at the area meeting held May 12. At the district meeting, Donnie was elected Star Farmer, that is, he was selected the best Future Farmer in the Hereford District.

Ray Burrus was elected to an Area office; however, the office will not be decided upon until the Area XI meeting held here in Canyon, May 12.

Coffee To State For Journalism

"I get to go to state and I never even thought I would place," exclaimed Florence Coffee when asked how she felt when told that she had won second place in journalism at the Regional meet held at Lubbock, April 21. Florence enjoyed competing and said that it did not even seem like a contest.

There were five divisions: news story, feature story, editorial, headlines, and copyreading. Each student entered all divisions and was rated accordingly; the two contestants with the highest number of points placed first and second and are eligible for the state meet. Florence won first in editorials and headlines and therefore won second place.

She began taking journalism at the first of this, her junior year. In her three years of high school, Florence was vice-president of her freshman class, placed on Junior Who's Who, soloist with the college orchestra, and has served on "Soaring Wings" and "The Eagle's Tale." She is cheerleader at the present time.

A career in the field of journalism is what Florence plans. She wants to work on college publications and on different papers through the summers. Florence plans to attend West Texas State College for two years, and then major in journalism at the University of Missouri, School of Journalism.

Band Captures Seconds, Third

Gaining more honors for CHS is its band directed by Mr. Herman Demus. At the recent band contest held April 26-28, the CHS band garnered a second division in concert playing and also in marching. The third division came in sight reading.

In the ensemble contest, the trombone quartet took a first division, and the brass sextet and clarinet quartet were awarded second division.

Winning first places in the various solo contests were: Jo Ann Mickey, clarinet; Dorothy McReynolds and Annelle Pond, twirling; and Marshall Jones, baritone.

Second place winners were: Arcie Phelps, J. T. Maddox, and Gene Miller, trombone; Teddy Bynum, Sherma Dixon, twirling; James Miller, tuba; and Virgil Martin, horn.

Jerry Martin and Len Reid McKay were awarded third division in cornet solos.

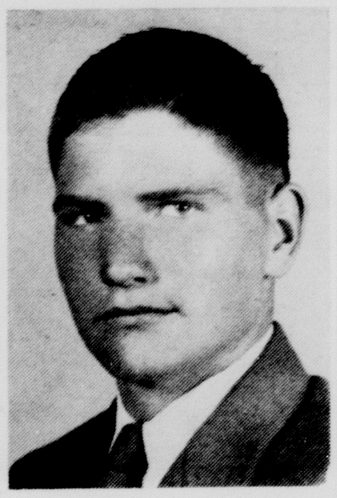

First place winners were given handsome medals, and second and third winners received certificates.

Ducking each other, splashing, and playing "keep-away" with the beach ball were enjoyed recently when the seniors had a swimming party in the indoor pool at West Texas State. After swimming for about an hour, the tired class then had a picnic at the roadside park. The room mothers had charge of the refreshments.

In preparation for entry in the band marching and concert contests April 27, the Canyon High Band was excused from classes Tuesday afternoon, April 24, to attend a clinic at West Texas State. Drill in marching and in playing contest music was under the general supervision of Mr. Jerry Newman, WTSC band instructor.

Due to error the names of Lynn Williams and John Miller were excluded from the list of returning football lettermen in the story — Spring Training Is Here Again. The staff wishes to take this means of making correction.

Burrus To State For Track Events

Ray Burrus has added another point to his score of athletic honors. Placing first in the discus at the regional track meet, Ray gained a berth at the state meet at Austin, May 4 and 5, where he will compete in the discus, shotput, and high-jump events.

Ray not only copped first place honors, but topped all previous records when he hurled the discus 146 feet, 10½ inches, the previous high being 141 feet, 7½ inches.

Not always a star, Ray says he warmed the bench his freshman year in both basketball and football. His athletic career began to look up his sophomore year when he placed on the starting line-up in basketball and made all-tournament team at Claude, was placed on the all-regional team, and was given honorable mention at the state tournament. This same year, Ray played end on the football team, and won district in the discus in track. And this, his junior year, Ray was outstanding in basketball, making all-tournament teams at Happy, the district and regional tournaments, and again was given honorable mention at the state tournament. In football, Ray was an all-district, all-regional end, and he has won both district and regional in the discus.

Ray plans to continue his athletic career in college, but is undecided about the college he will attend.

Weatherred Speaks At FFA Banquet

Highlighting the 14th annual Parent-Son Banquet given by Canyon FFA boys in the school cafeteria, April 26, was the entertaining address of guest speaker, W. B. Weatherred, Postmaster of Pampa.

Invocation was given by Marvin Cornette. Welcome was given by Donnie Stroup and the response by J. H. Wright. Joyce Payne was introduced as the FFA Sweetheart by Landon Barrett. Ray Burrus introduced the guests of the evening.

Music was provided for the entertainment of the parents by a boys ensemble composed of John Brandt, Landon Barrett, George Dowlen, Don Johnson, Stanley Lair, Richmond Payne, Tommy Gooch, Robert McClendon, and Don McDonald. Accompanied by Mrs. Tom Sifert they sang two popular songs, "The Chicken Song" and "The Roving Kind." Highlights of the year were presented by Don Johnson.

J. O. Parker, Richmond Hales, J. E. Miller, and E. A. Wooten were presented Honorary Chapter Farmer Degrees.

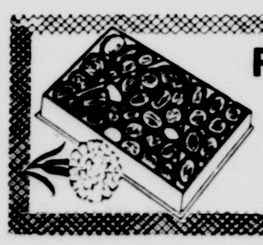

Upon seeing a boy wearing shoes too big for his feet, a bright young thing scornfully remarked, "Why do boys always insist upon wearing big shoes?"

Her escort's scorching reply, "Because they have big feet."

Defense of Gen. MacArthur Gives Rise to Issues

The State Department was, manifestly, seriously disturbed when MacArthur publicly stated that he was willing to meet the enemy commander in chief in the field and to discuss terms for ending the bloodshed. The General was called down, though the words used were polite and evasive, as is always the case with a man of his reputation and position. Of this, Miss Thompson said, "There is nothing unprecedented in a commander offering to meet his opposite in the field to discuss a truce — What is unprecedented is for the political authorities who have put a commander in the field against an enemy to leave him without any directives that can be translated into rational military terms." The General is damned if he does and damned if he doesn't.

Another trouble is that most of our allies in the Korean war are far from enthusiastic. The bulk of the U. N. countries followed our lead because they could do nothing else. Britain is the prime example. Britain doesn't want to alienate Red China. She is offering Red China various forms of appeasement — while British soldiers are fighting bravely and dying miserably fighting the Red Chinese! The idea, of course, is that war must be avoided at almost all costs. But to the soldiers in Korea a very real and extremely bloody war is in process right now — as it is to the commanders, fettered with orders unprecedented in military history, who must send them into battle.

That is how matters stand. And it explains why so many people regard our present diplomatic and military policy as being utterly bankrupt.

News Man In Dog House: Woman Is Sorely Peeved

Mrs. Ann England writes an interesting column in the Morton Tribune under the heading "Anne-grams." This is one of the most popular columns in the Panhandle. Occasionally Mrs. England gets peeved at some "thoughtless" remark by a fellow publisher, and proceeds to tell him how the cow ate the cabbage.

The Newsman was the victim last week of Ann, due to an "innocent" remark we made at the Panhandle Press Association about her never working. The thing that really peeved Ann was that the Newsman was chairman of the memorial committee. Ann was sick throughout the convention and when she came down to the lobby, looking very much under the weather, we remarked that we were looking for material, and thought she might be kind enough to kick off during the convention so we could write about her.

Isn't that grounds of libel, or somethun?

Union Labor in Texas Controls All Defense Work

"You cannot work on a government plant in Texas unless you belong to union," stated two Pampa News reporters Thursday after making a complete investigation of work under construction in Amarillo.

The reporters were assigned to the task of getting the low-down on defense jobs. These are paid for through taxes, play by about 15,000,000 laborers, and 75,000,000 non-union laborers.

After making the rounds of labor unions in Amarillo and being brushed aside in various degrees, the two reporters called Senator George Parkhouse of Dallas who is sponsoring a bill in the legislature to make all government jobs in Texas open to all workers.

Winnie Will Stay at Home in London

Winston Churchill has cancelled his proposed trip to America on the grounds that the labor government is responsible for the ill feeling which has been created in this country about shipment of war materials to the Reds, and thereby he hopes that the labor government will fall to the conservatives, of which he is the leader.

In the meanwhile it was charged Friday that England interests continue to ship vast war materials to the Reds. One division of British soldiers was killed in Korea Thursday. By war materials shipped from England?

It's All in the Point of View

Statehouse

by HUGH WILLIAMSON

Most people around the Capitol believe the Legislature will adjourn May 8 — the 120th day of the regular session.

The Constitution sets 120 days as the time for the lawmakers to get their work done, but the custom is for sessions to go past the deadline by a month or two.

At the end of 120 days, the legislators begin drawing $5 per day instead of the previous $10. Generally speaking, the members are ready to quit and go home at the end of four months.

This session got away to a fast start when Speaker of the House Reuben Senterfitt of San Saba had his committee appointments ready on the first day the Legislature met.

It was possible for him to do that because it was conceded that the House members would elect him their presiding officer. Usually, there is a contest for the speaker's job, and the candidates wait until their election is assured before going to work on committee assignments.

If the Legislature adjourns on May 8 without finishing all its business, Governor Allan Shivers can call a special session to provide the necessary additional time — and there is a good prospect that the governor will do just that.

Incidentally, that same thing happened after the 1949 regular session. The governor called a special session in February, 1950, when the Legislature provided the appropriation for state hospitals and special schools by putting an additional tax on cigarettes and increasing the omnibus tax.

Among other things, the special session would work on a reorganization plan for state colleges and universities. Or it could attempt to re-write the state election laws.

Passed by both Houses is a bill to make your automobile drivers license cost $1 instead of the present 50 cents.

The additional money goes to the Texas Department of Public Safety, and will provide a million dollars a year. This is enough to pay for readquarters administration of the department, the cost of the Identification and Records Division, the Intelligence Division, and the Rangers.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the department, points out that this is a million dollars a year that will not have to come out of the state's general fund.

So, while the automobile driver will have to pay 50 cents more for his license, he will have to dig up 50 cents less for the general fund, which makes it come out about even.

The taxpayer gets a break — at the expense of lawbreakers — in the construction of a new building for the Texas Liquor Control Board.

If a resolution which has passed the House gets final approval, the Board can get the money from sale of confiscated liquor. Agents seize liquor when it is sold without payment of the state tax.

The resolution, originated by Representative W. A. Swindell of Commerce, specifies that the building would be constructed on land already owned by the state. Occupying part of the site is the State Confederate Home.

Petition Shivers Run Against Tom Connally in 1952

Political friends of Governor Allan Shivers are extremely busy trying to induce him to get into the race for the U. S. Senate from Texas against Senator Tom Connally in 1952.

It was reported Friday that a Dallas oil man was ready to put up $100,000 to finance the campaign.

Petitions are being circulated in various parts of the State asking that Shivers announce for the job. So far he has sidestepped the idea of making the race.

William F. Brown, safety director: "Motorists have accidents because they either underestimate the hazards or overestimate their ability to cope with them."

DEVICE STARTS AND STOPS MOTORS IN COLD

A device for sub-zero temperatures is being made up a New Hampshire company. It starts the engine of the vehicle as soon as the outside temperature reaches a preset point. When the coolant reaches another predetermined temperature, the device shuts off the engine automatically. To prevent the motor from being accidentally started while the vehicle is in gear, a neutral safety switch is included.

Dollar Slips in Value By Wild Inflation

The nation has been given a series of top-flight stories lately — including the Fulbright investigation of shennanigans in the RFC, the Kefauver investigation of big-time gambling with its resulting municipal corruption, the sentencing to death of two Americans who acted as A-bomb informants for the Russians, and the dismissal of General MacArthur and his dramatic return home to defend his position and policies. Such events as these naturally dominate the headlines. But, regardless of the big stories, the American people and their government must keep on dealing with the everyday problems of living in today's complex and difficult world.

Among these problems, inflation still holds a top place. Some people think the present controls are doing as well as can be expected, some think them almost a complete flop. But just about everyone must now realize that prices are not going to return to long-ago levels, that the probabilities are that they will continue to rise, and that the great American dollar isn't what she used to be.

Today's dollar, according to a U. S. News and World Report account, has lost two-thirds of its worth since 1900 and is still slipping. It has lost six cents of its value in the last year alone. To quote the magazine directly, "There is more money in relation to the volume of goods than there ever was. That is what is making money less valuable."

We have all felt the effect of this personally. The Wall Street Journal recently ran a series of feature stories, dealing with the current financial experiences of actual families in widely varying income brackets. The articles went into full detail as to how much money came in and how it was spent — food, rents and mortgages, clothing, recreation, etc. The incomes ranged from around $50 a week for an industrial worker, to $35,000 a year for an executive. In every case, the families were finding the sledding tough. None were saving anything to speak of, some were drawing on past savings, some were slipping deeper into debt. Their incomes had gone up over recent years — but higher living costs and heavier taxes had more than offset this gain.

The U. S. News article pointed to the hard fact that it is next to impossible to establish a sizable estate now — living costs, income taxes, and finally death taxes are responsible for that. And money, even as it buys less, will bring in less return when it is invested. In 1900, an accumulation of $25,000 would return $1500 when safely invested, and that $1500 would go a long way. Today a safely invested estate of $25,000 brings in only about $750 a year, and the $750 buys little.

These are facts. As for proposed cures, it would take a thick book to adequately outline them. But the facts alone indicate why more and more people are taking a real interest in inflation and urging that something effective be done about it. And when it comes to that, the great bulk of economists are convinced that the first step lies in drastic changes in the spending, credit and taxing policies of the central government.

ROBBING THE KITTY

A mother, hearing the family cat crying in the backyard, looked out of the window and saw her small son shaking the cat by the tail. Telling the boy to stop, the boy answered that last night he heard his dad, while playing cards, say there was $3 in the kitty and he was trying to shake it out.

Higher taxes, tighter money seen only way to hold line.

Robert Schuman, French Foreign Minister: "Without a free Europe, there is no assurance of liberty for any other country."

A BIG JOB

"Do you make life-size enlargements from snapshots?" asked the demure girl.

"Certainly, Miss," said the photographer; "that's our specialty."

"Well," said the girl, "see what you can do with this picture of Boulder Dam."

RIGHT COLOR

Mrs. O'Leary: "Shure and I'm sorry to hear your husband passed away. What did he die of?"

Mrs. Murphy: "Twas gangreen."

Mrs. O'Leary: "Praise the Saints for the color, anyway?"

OUTLIVES ENEMIES

"Wal," bragged the ancient patient, "I'll be 80 my next birthday and I haven't an enemy in the world."

"Gee, that's remarkable," said the young one.

"Yep," went on the old one, "I've outlived every durned one of 'em."

SOME BUSINESS

Customer: "You say it costs you $20 to make these watches. Well, if you sell them for $20, how do you make any profit?"

Shopkeeper: "That comes from repairing them."

Steel production rate seen staying over 100 per cent for months.

Government sees abundant supplies checking food prices.

NEW CHAMPION

We did not think that the Skin Scrapers Union of St. Louis had the most picturesque of union names — but we're wavering. "Current History" has uncovered the Flea, Tadpole, Worm, Cockroach, Rodent, and Bird Workers of North Hollywood.

POWERFUL

A wonder remedy, this inflation. After a few years on the stuff, we can lift $7 worth of groceries with one hand.

FAIR WARNING

Letter from post library to corporal: "Your library card will be canceled unless you return the librarian you took out last week."

Walter P. Reuther, president, United Automobile Workers: "I have said for a long time that the only thing that blocks labor unity now are a few swivel chairs."

Fine clothes are good only as they supply the want of other means of procuring respect. — Samuel Johnson.

I'll match my Dodge with any car on the road for Value and Dependability
—says MICHAEL OPPENHEIM

"Sure, I've owned and driven other make cars," says Michael Oppenheim, Bellerose, N.Y. "But since 1941 my cars have all been Dodges. I know how dependable Dodge cars are, how little they cost to run."

Specifications and equipment subject to change without notice
You could pay up to $1,000 more and not get all the extra room, comfort and rugged dependability of Dodge
Compare what Dodge gives you . . . with what other cars offer. You'll understand why Dodge owners say they'll match Dodge with any car on the road.
Take riding comfort for example. You could pay far more for a car and still not get the almost unbelievable smoothness of the new Oriflow ride. Even on roughest roads there's no wheel "hop" or bounce.
You get the relaxing comfort of extra head room, leg room and shoulder room . . . the safety of "Watchtower" visibility. Dodge Gyro-Matic—the lowest priced automatic transmission—lets you drive without shifting. See and drive Dodge today.
